

Notification Waiver Determination

Bendigo and Adelaide Bank – RACQ Bank

Acquisition	Bendigo and Adelaide Bank Limited (Bendigo and Adelaide Bank) applied for a notification waiver in respect of its proposed acquisition of Members Banking Group Limited's, trading as RACQ Bank (RACQ Bank), retail loan and deposit books by way of an asset sale, as described in the transaction documents provided as part of the application (the Acquisition).
Determination	The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission has determined under section 51ABV(1)(a) of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) that the Acquisition is not required to be notified.
Date of determination	28 April 2026

Parties to the Acquisition	The acquirer, Bendigo and Adelaide Bank, is an Australian, ASX-listed (ASX:BEN) authorised deposit-taking institution (ADI) headquartered in Bendigo, Victoria. Established in 1858, Bendigo and Adelaide Bank provides retail banking services to over 2.9m customers through 416 branches across Australia, and has over A$73bn of customer deposits and over A$84bn of total lending. Bendigo and Adelaide Bank's customer-facing banking business is split into a consumer division and a business and agribusiness division. The target, RACQ Bank, is an ADI and wholly-owned indirect subsidiary of The Royal Automobile Club of Queensland Limited (RACQ). RACQ Bank provides retail loan and deposit banking services, including personal, home and business loans, transactions accounts, savings accounts and term deposits to approximately 90,000 customers. At 30 June 2025, RACQ Bank's retail business comprised A$2.7bn of retail loans and A$2.5bn of retail deposits. The parties both supply retail lending and retail deposit products in Queensland and across Australia.
Explanation for determination	In making this notification waiver determination, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (the ACCC) has considered the information provided with the notification waiver application and had regard to the factors in section 51ABV(2)(b) of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) (the Act). Based on the information provided in the application, the ACCC considers that the Acquisition is unlikely to give rise to any material lessening of competition. In particular: while there is a horizontal overlap between Bendigo and Adelaide Bank and RACQ Bank in the supply of retail lending and retail deposit products in Queensland and nationally, their combined share in the supply of these products in each would be low, and the increase in share of supply arising from the Acquisition would be small b. there are alternative suppliers of retail lending and retail deposit products in Queensland and nationally. The ACCC has also had regard to the likelihood that, if the Acquisition were put into effect, the notification thresholds determined under section 51ABP(1) of the Act would apply. While the ACCC considers that the notification thresholds are likely to be met, given that material competition concerns are unlikely to arise, the ACCC has determined that the Acquisition is not required to be notified. The ACCC considers that the determination is consistent with the object of the Act and the interests of consumers in promoting competition. For more information about the ACCC's approach to considering notification waiver applications and to assessing competition effects more generally, see the ACCC's interim guidance on notification waivers and merger assessment guidelines.

--	---

Determination made by Commissioner Woodward pursuant to a delegation under section 25(1) of the Act