

Zurich - Beazley

MN-30016

Phase 1 Determination

Acquisition may be put into effect

17 June 2026

1. Determination and statement of reasons

Notified acquisition	Zurich Insurance Group Ltd (Zurich) proposes to acquire all of the shares in Beazley plc (Beazley) (the Acquisition).
Determination	The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission has determined under section 51ABZE(1) of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) that the Acquisition may be put into effect.
Parties to the Acquisition	The acquirer, Zurich, is a global multi-line insurer headquartered in Switzerland. In Australia, Zurich, through its wholly-owned subsidiaries, supplies a range of life insurance products and general insurance products, including specialty insurance products. The target, Beazley, is a UK-based global specialty insurance business. Globally, Beazley underwrites a range of specialty insurance products, including professional indemnity, cyber liability, property, marine, reinsurance, accident and life sciences, financial institutions, directors and officers, and political risks and contingency business. Beazley manages 7 Lloyd's syndicates that underwrite insurance and reinsurance business through the Lloyd's global platform, and is active in Australia solely through these syndicates.
Overlap and relationship between the parties	The Acquisition gives rise to a competitive overlap in relation to the supply of the following insurance products in Australia: Cyber, Marine, SME, Corporate Property, Personal Accident, Management Liability, Professional Liability, and Financial lines/institutions.
Reasons for determination	When making a determination in Phase 1, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) undertakes a competition assessment and considers whether it is appropriate for an acquisition to be approved or subject to further assessment in Phase 2 in accordance with section 51ABZJ of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) (the Act). In doing so, the ACCC must have regard to the object of the Act and all relevant matters, including the interests of consumers. For more information about the ACCC's approach to considering notified acquisitions, see the ACCC's merger assessment guidelines and interim merger process guidelines. In conducting its competition assessment, the ACCC has considered the information and documents that were submitted with the notification form, information from third parties, and publicly available information. The ACCC has determined that the Acquisition may be put into effect as it considers that the Acquisition is unlikely to have the effect of substantially lessening competition in any market. In reaching its decision, and based on the material before it, the ACCC makes the following findings: - the Parties' market shares in Australia of the insurance products in which they overlap are estimated to be low, and the increases in share resulting from the Acquisition are estimated to be low; - the Parties would likely continue to face competition by multiple alternative suppliers of specialty insurance products in Australia in all product segments in which they overlap; • the Parties are not close competitors, with different areas of relative strength and focus.

Applications for review	A notifying party, or other person who has been allowed to do so by the Australian Competition Tribunal, may apply for review if they are dissatisfied with the determination. Pursuant to section 100C of the Act, applications for review of the determination are to be made to the Australian Competition Tribunal before the end of 14 calendar days after this statement of reasons was included on the ACCC's Acquisitions Register. To confirm whether there has been any application for review, please contact the Australian Competition Tribunal.

Determination made by Commissioner Williams pursuant to a delegation under section 25(1)