MN-45024

Phase 1 Determination

Acquisition may be put into effect

8 September 2026

1. Determination and statement of reasons

Notified acquisition	OEConnection, LLC (OEConnection)'s, through its wholly owned subsidiary, proposed acquisition of 100% of the share capital in Quadrum Investments Group Ltd and its controlled subsidiaries (trading as Epyx) (the Acquisition).
Determination	The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission has determined under section 51ABZE(1) of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) that the Acquisition may be put into effect.
Parties to the Acquisition	The acquirer, OEConnection, is a United States-based software company that supplies software solutions for the automotive aftersales ecosystem, connecting suppliers, repairers, manufacturers, insurers and fleets. Its core activity is the supply of software and data solutions that facilitate the sale, sourcing and supply of automotive parts for vehicle repairs. OEConnection's primary products – including CollisionLink, RepairLink, and PartsTech – facilitate buying and selling of automotive parts and provide repair planning tools and insurance solutions. OEConnection is a portfolio company of funds managed and/or advised by an affiliate of Francisco Partners Management, L.P. (Francisco Partners), a global private equity investment firm headquartered in the United States that primarily invests in technology and technology-enabled service businesses. The target, Epyx, is a fleet technology solutions company headquartered in the United Kingdom that supplies fleet management software under its 1link and r2c brands. Epyx's primary offering is a fleet service, maintenance and repair authorisation platform (1link Service Network) that connects vehicle fleet operators (such as leasing and rental companies) with automotive service providers (repair shops and garages).
Overlap between the Parties	OEConnection and Epyx (together, the Parties) both supply software solutions for the automotive sector. There is no material overlap between the activities of Epyx in Australia and the activities of any of Francisco Partners' connected entities.
Reasons for determination	When making a determination in Phase 1, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) undertakes a competition assessment and considers whether it is appropriate for an acquisition to be approved or subject to further assessment in Phase 2 in accordance with section 51ABZJ of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) (the Act). In doing so, the ACCC must have regard to the object of the Act and all relevant matters, including the interests of consumers. For more information about the ACCC's approach to considering notified acquisitions, see the ACCC's merger assessment guidelines and interim merger process guidelines. In conducting its competition assessment, the ACCC has considered the information and documents that were submitted with the notification form and publicly available information.

	The ACCC has determined that the Acquisition may be put into effect as it considers that the Acquisition is unlikely to have the effect of substantially lessening competition in any market. In reaching its decision, and based on the material before it, the ACCC makes the following findings. • There is no material overlap between the services supplied by OEConnection (or any connected entity of OEConnection) and Epyx in Australia, given their different use cases and customer bases. In particular, OEConnection's services are primarily supplied to original equipment manufacturers, whereas Epyx's service, maintenance and repair authorisation platform is primarily supplied to fleet companies. • OEConnection and Epyx each have a limited presence in Australia.
Applications for review	A notifying party, or other person who has been allowed to do so by the Australian Competition Tribunal, may apply for review if they are dissatisfied with the determination. Pursuant to section 100C of the Act, applications for review of the determination are to be made to the Australian Competition Tribunal before the end of 14 calendar days after this statement of reasons was included on the ACCC's Acquisitions Register. To confirm whether there has been any application for review, please contact the Australian Competition Tribunal.
