

BBFIT – Hanes Australasia

MN-10028

Phase 1 Determination

Acquisition may be put into effect

1 October 2026

1. Determination and statement of reasons

Notified acquisition	BBFIT Investments Pte Ltd's (BBFIT) proposed acquisition of the entire issued share capital of HBI Holdings Australasia Pty Ltd (Hanes Australasia) (the Acquisition).
Determination	The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission has determined under section 51ABZE(1) of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) that the Acquisition may be put into effect.
Parties to the Acquisition	The acquirer, BBFIT, is a private limited company incorporated in Singapore. The company's principal activities include investing and fund management, and its investment portfolio spans the consumer retail, property and technology sectors. BBFIT's controlled portfolio companies include Best & Less and Léays. • Best & Less is a value apparel retailer which supplies clothing for men, women and children, baby clothing, sleepwear, underwear, hosiery, fashion accessories, and lifestyle products. • Léays supplies lingerie, bras, underwear, shapewear and sleepwear. The target, Hanes Australasia, is the Australian parent entity of the Hanes Australasia group companies, the principal activity of which is the manufacturing, wholesaling, and retailing of consumer products in apparel and homeware markets. Hanes Australasia's brands include Bonds, Bras N Things and Berlei. • Bonds supplies men's, women's, and children's clothing, underwear, bras, socks, hosiery, babywear and outerwear. • Bras N Things supplies bras, underwear/lingerie, sleepwear, shapewear and swimwear. • Berlei supplies bras, hosiery, underwear, shapewear, camisoles and singlets.
Overlap and supply chain relationship between the Parties	The parties overlap in the wholesale and retail supply of various types of apparel in Australia. Hanes Australasia supplies Bonds and Be by Berlei products to Best & Less, in addition to other discount department stores and retailers.
Reasons for determination	When making a determination in Phase 1, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) undertakes a competition assessment and considers whether it is appropriate for an acquisition to be approved or subject to further assessment in Phase 2 in accordance with section 51ABZJ of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) (the Act). In doing so, the ACCC must have regard to the object of the Act and all relevant matters, including the interests of consumers. For more information about the ACCC's approach to considering notified acquisitions, see the ACCC's merger assessment guidelines and interim merger process guidelines. In conducting its competition assessment, the ACCC has considered the information and documents that were submitted with the notification form, information from third parties and publicly available information.

	The ACCC has determined that the Acquisition may be put into effect as it considers that the Acquisition would be unlikely to have the effect of substantially lessening competition in any market. In reaching its decision, and based on the material before it, the ACCC makes the following findings: • BBFIT's controlled portfolio companies would continue to face competition post-acquisition from multiple independent retail and wholesale suppliers of relevant apparel in Australia. • BBFIT's controlled portfolio companies would be unlikely to have the ability and incentive to foreclose rival retailers' access to apparel products (for example, underwear) post-acquisition, given there are alternative brands and wholesale suppliers of relevant apparel products from which rival retailers could obtain supply.
Applications for review	A notifying party, or other person who has been allowed to do so by the Australian Competition Tribunal, may apply for review if they are dissatisfied with the determination. Pursuant to section 100C of the Act, applications for review of the determination are to be made to the Australian Competition Tribunal before the end of 14 calendar days after this statement of reasons was included on the ACCC's Acquisitions Register. To confirm whether there has been any application for review, please contact the Australian Competition Tribunal.

Determination made by Commissioner Williams pursuant to a delegation under section 25(1) of the Act
