Thoma Bravo - Tanda

MN - 80047

Phase 1 Determination

Acquisition may be put into effect

12 November 2026

1. Determination and statement of reasons

Notified acquisition	Thoma Bravo, LP (Thoma Bravo), proposes to acquire, through entities it controls, EPI Capital Pty Ltd, Tanda HR Services Pty Ltd and other entities comprising the Tanda business (together, Tanda) (the Acquisition).
Determination	The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission has determined under section 51ABZE(1) of the C*ompetition and Consumer Act 2010* (Cth) that the Acquisition may be put into effect.
Parties to the Acquisition	The acquirer, Thoma Bravo, is a US-based private equity investment firm with a focus on software and technology-enabled services businesses. Thoma Bravo supplies human capital management software in Australia through Dayforce Inc., a US-based global company it acquired early in 2026. Thoma Bravo' portfolio companies include other businesses supplying enterprise software to Australian customers. The target, Tanda, is an Australia-based supplier of human capital management software, with a focus on workforce management for shift and hourly workers. Tanda also supplies some products in the UK, US and Canada.
Overlap between the Parties	Dayforce and Tanda overlap in the supply of human capital management software to Australian customers, including payroll software, HR software, and work from home software.
Reasons for determination	When making a determination in Phase 1, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) undertakes a competition assessment and considers whether it is appropriate for an acquisition to be approved or subject to further assessment in Phase 2 in accordance with section 51ABZJ of the C*ompetition and Consumer Act 2010* (Cth) (the Act). In doing so, the ACCC must have regard to the object of the Act and all relevant matters, including the interests of consumers. For more information about the ACCC's approach to considering notified acquisitions, see the ACCC's merger assessment guidelines and interim merger process guidelines. In conducting its competition assessment, the ACCC has considered the information and documents that were submitted with the notification form and information from third partes. The ACCC has determined that the Acquisition may be put into effect as it considers that the Acquisition would be unlikely to have the effect of substantially lessening competition in any market. In reaching its decision, and based on the material before it, the ACCC finds that post acquisition there would continue to be effective alternative suppliers of human capital management software in Australia to Thoma Bravo portfolio companies.
Applications for review	A notifying party, or other person who has been allowed to do so by the Australian Competition Tribunal, may apply for review if they are dissatisfied with the determination. Pursuant to section 100C of the Act, applications for review of the determination are to be made to the Australian Competition Tribunal before the end of 14 calendar days after this statement of reasons was included on the ACCC's Acquisitions Register. To confirm whether there has been any application for review, please contact the Australian Competition Tribunal.

Determination made by Commissioner Williams pursuant to a delegation under section 25(1) of the Act