

Notification Waiver Determination

Tata Motors – Iveco

Acquisition	TML CV Holdings B.V., a newly formed wholly owned subsidiary of Tata Motors Limited (Tata Motors), proposes to acquire 100% of the common shares (including treasury shares) of Iveco Group N.V. (together with its subsidiaries, Iveco), excluding the defence business unit that it operates under the IDV and Astra brands, as described in the transaction documents provided as part of the application (the Acquisition). TML CV Holdings B.V. and Tata Motors applied for a notification waiver in respect of the Acquisition.
Determination	The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission has determined under section 51ABV(1)(a) of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) that the Acquisition is not required to be notified.
Date of determination	24 July 2026

Parties to the Acquisition	The acquirer, Tata Motors, is an Indian company active globally in the design, manufacture, and sale of commercial vehicles. Tata Motors is listed on both the Bombay Stock Exchange and the National Stock Exchange of India. The target, Iveco, is a publicly traded company incorporated in the Netherlands and trading on Euronext Milan. Iveco, through its subsidiaries, designs, produces and sells trucks, other commercial vehicles, and buses as well as powertrain products, and financial products for Iveco's dealers and customers. Iveco does not have a manufacturing facility in Australia and has not manufactured commercial vehicles locally since 2022. Tata Motors and Iveco are both active at the global level in the design, manufacture and distribution of commercial vehicles, in particular, trucks and buses. Iveco also supplies powertrain products used in commercial vehicles at the global level. In Australia, Iveco supplies commercial vehicles, spare parts, and maintenance and repair services, while Tata Motors does not supply commercial vehicles in Australia.
Explanation for determination	In making this notification waiver determination, the Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (the ACCC) has considered the information provided with the notification waiver application and had regard to the factors in section 51ABV(2)(b) of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) (the Act). Based on the information provided in the application, the ACCC considers that the Acquisition is unlikely to give rise to any material lessening of competition. In particular:

	a. there is no horizontal overlap or vertical relationship between Tata Motors and Iveco in the supply of commercial vehicles in Australia b. there are alternative suppliers of commercial vehicles in Australia. In these circumstances, the ACCC does not consider it necessary to reach a concluded view on the likelihood of the notification thresholds being met. Given that material competition concerns are unlikely to arise, the ACCC has determined that the Acquisition is not required to be notified. The ACCC considers that the determination is consistent with the object of the Act and the interests of consumers in promoting competition. For more information about the ACCC's approach to considering notification waiver applications and to assessing competition effects more generally, see the ACCC's interim guidance on notification waivers and merger assessment guidelines.
--	---

Determination made by Commissioner Williams pursuant to a delegation under section 25(1) of the Act